Thanks to the wise leadership of the Emir of Qatar, Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al Thani, and the hard work of the Qatari people, the country is one of the best countries in the modern world.

The beautiful natural landscape, beautiful coastlines and beaches, rich culture, beautiful cities, and hospitality of Qatar attract millions of people from all over the world.

Qatar’s economy is one of the richest and most dynamic in the world. Qatar has the largest reserves of natural gas and oil. Thanks to its fair government policies and exceptionally high income, the country has traditionally held a leading position in the world in terms of GDP per capita.

Qatar’s rich culture is a continuation of wonderful Arab traditions and Islamic values. Qatari traditions are characterized by Arab hospitality, respect for elders, and the importance of family ties. The history and art of this stunningly beautiful country can be explored at the Katara Cultural Village, which features galleries, an amphitheater, and festivals. In the capital’s ancient market, Souq Waqif, you can explore and sample traditional dishes, buy a variety of aromatic spices, beautiful fabrics, and even see falcons.

It’s remarkable that the capital of Qatar is home to the Mathaf: the Arab Museum of Modern Art.

The founder of the Mathaf is Sheikh Hassan bin Mohammed Al Thani, a prominent member of the Qatari royal family, a renowned artist, researcher, and one of the most influential art collectors.

Sheikh Hassan bin Mohammed Al Thani made a significant contribution to the development of contemporary art in the Arab world.

Qatar is a major sporting power. Sport is a vital part of the country’s public policy and national identity. In 2022, Qatar hosted the historic FIFA World Cup, a major sporting event of global significance.

The Lusail International Circuit regularly hosts Formula 1 races (Qatar Grand Prix) and motorcycle racing.

Traditional sports with historical roots include falconry, horse racing, and camel racing.

Qatar continues to host major sporting events, including the upcoming 2030 Asian Games in Doha.

In our modern world, Qatar is one of the leading international mediators and diplomatic peacemakers in the Middle East and around the world. Qatar, with its flexible foreign policy, maintains channels of communication with countries that often refuse direct dialogue with each other.

For example, in the conflict between the US and the Taliban, Doha became a key negotiating platform, where a historic agreement regulating the withdrawal of troops was signed in 2020.

It also played a role in the conflict between Israel and Hamas.

Qatar has regularly acted as a mediator in resolving crises and coordinating humanitarian pauses.

In the confrontation between the US and Iran, Doha regularly provides reliable channels of communication and serves as a platform for preliminary negotiations, including in preparation for larger agreements.

Thanks to Qatar’s peacekeeping efforts, many conflicts between the countries have been resolved, preventing the destruction of numerous cities and saving hundreds of thousands of lives.
